Maulana Azad National Urdu University , MANUU Law School organized its first International Conference on Law and Technology (ICLT 2025) today. The event had 97 paper presenters from various institutions across India and abroad. Many global experts in law and technology presented keynote speeches, making it a significant academic event.

The conference began with a welcome address by Prof. (Dr.) Tabrez Ahmad, Dean & HOD of MANUU Law School, followed by the university's MANUU Tarana. The conference proceedings were officially unveiled, marking the start of discussions.

Prof. Sk. Ishtiaque Ahmed, Registrar of MANUU, addressed the gathering, highlighting the importance of law and technology in today's world. Hon'ble Sri Justice B. Prakash Rao, Former Judge of the High Court of Andhra Pradesh, attended as the Chief Guest and shared his thoughts on legal developments in the digital era. Padma Shri Prof. Syed Ainul Hasan, Vice-Chancellor of MANUU, delivered the Presidential Address, stressing the need for academic research in this field. Dr. Rashmi K S Organising Secretary of ICLT gave the Vote of thanks.

A book on Law and Technology was presented to all Chief Guests, patrons, and paper presenters as a special gesture. Mementos, plant pots, and shawls were also given to the guests, patrons, and session chairs as a token of appreciation.

After the formal session, global experts delivered keynote speeches, focusing on the latest legal and technological challenges. The conference then moved to nine parallel technical sessions, where researchers presented their papers on different topics related to law and technology.

The valedictory session started with a welcome address by Prof. (Dr.) Tabrez Ahmad, followed by a conference report and award announcements by Dr. Rashmi K S, Organizing Secretary. Dr. Ella Gorian from Manipal University, Bengaluru, and Dr. Sriram Birudavolu, CEO of Cyber Security Centre of Excellence (DSCI – A NASSCOM Initiative), also addressed the gathering. The event ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Tausif Ur Rehman, followed by the national anthem.

The conference brought together legal scholars, technology experts, and policymakers, providing a great platform for discussions and collaboration. ICLT 2025 ended as a grand success.
