As Coordinator, University Extension Lectures (2009-2012)

Achievements:

As Co-ordinator of the University Extension Lectures with all modesty I tried to facilitate an interface between an education system, which limits itself on account of its inbuilt specification, and the universe of discourse located beyond the converging margins into a horizon of liberating possibilities, by offering a perspective beyond university education to the students and to challenge and rejuvenating the creative pursuits of the teachers. We invited people of ideas and excellence from a diversity of occupation; writers, activists, scientists, law makers, film makers, social scientists, philosophers, politicians, journalists to interact with our students and teachers. The intensity of their personalities lingered much after the interactions were over leading and guiding the young impressionable minds in forging their futuristic directions.
