The School Internship Teaching Programme (SITP) was conducted during both Semester II and Semester IV.

IV Semester School Internship Teaching Programme (SITP) conducted for 8 weeks at Noor-E- Aziz School, student teachers observed various academic and behavioural challenges among learners. To address these issues, action research was carried out to identify the problems, apply appropriate student-centered strategies, and evaluate the outcomes. The research proved effective in improving students' academic performance, discipline, and classroom participation, highlighting the importance of continuous follow-up and supportive teaching methods for sustained progress.

During the SITP phase I second semester, student teachers conducted their teaching practice for two weeks at AMC-1Urdu High School. During this period, they delivered their lessons with sincere effort, using different teaching models and a variety of teaching aids. Smart boards were effectively used in the classroom, and well-prepared, content-based PowerPoint presentations were developed to make the lessons more engaging and meaningful for students.

Supervisors: Dr Shaheen Parveen & DrShaikh Yasmeen

To achieve the aims and objectives of the School Internship Teaching Practice (SITP) Programme, MANUU College of Teacher Education, CSN, Aurangabad organized the SITP for the academic year 2025–26. The Phase III of SITP was scheduled for the students of the 4th semester as a vital part of their professional training.

Purpose of SITP:

The purpose of SITP is to provide trainee teachers with practical exposure to classroom teaching, to help them apply the theories of pedagogy and methodology in real school situations, and to develop professional competencies such as lesson planning, classroom management, evaluation techniques, and reflective practices.

SITP programme schedule: 05th Jan 2026 to 28th Feb 2026

Activities Conducted:

During 8 weeks internship, in addition to classroom teaching practice, the trainee-teachers actively engaged in various activities such as Action Research, Community Survey and co-curricular Activities etc. that enriched their overall teaching-learning experience. Some of the significant activities included:

Action Research

During the School Internship Teaching Programme (SITP) at Noor e Aziz School, student teachers observed several academic and behavioural challenges among learners. These included difficulty in understanding the concept of Sound in Science, weak basic mathematical skills, irregular attendance, gender bias with lack of confidence among girls, and issues related to discipline.

Under the guidance of the Supervisor Dr Shaheen Parveen and Dr Shaikh Yasmeen, action research was carried out in the classroom to address these concerns. The student teachers carefully identified the key problems, planned appropriate interventions, and implemented student-centered strategies such as activity-based learning, remedial classes, group work, and regular monitoring of progress.

After applying these strategies, noticeable improvement was observed in students' academic performance, discipline, and classroom participation. Students became more confident, attentive, and actively engaged in learning activities. The overall findings indicate that continuous supervision, proper follow-up, and supportive teaching methods play a vital role in ensuring long-term improvement and holistic development of students.

Community Survey

In the same, during the SITP period at Noor e Aziz School, a Community Survey was conducted by the student teachers. As part of this activity, a structured questionnaire was provided, and each student teacher was required to collect data from any five students/ community members.

The questionnaire included details related to personal information, educational background, occupational status, economic condition, health status, and available facilities in the locality. The survey was conducted from a teacher's perspective to understand the social and educational environment of the students.

After collecting the data, a detailed report was prepared along with proper analysis of the findings. The analysis helped in understanding the community's socio-economic conditions and their impact on students' education. This entire survey process, including data collection, report writing, and analysis, was completed under the guidance and supervision of the Supervisors.

Reflective Diary – As per the instructions of Dr. Shaheen Parveen, all trainee teachers maintained a Daily Reflective Diary to critically analyze their teaching practices and learning experiences.

Activities Conducted During SITP

1. Completion of Five Lessons

Each student teacher prepared, Checked it from Supervisor and then delivered five lessons in their respective subjects. Lesson plans were prepared according to the syllabus and learning objectives. Various teaching methods such as explanation, questioning, discussion, and use of teaching aids were applied to make the lessons effective and interesting for students.

2. Community Survey

The student teachers conducted a community survey to understand the socio-economic and educational background of the students and their families. The survey helped in identifying factors affecting students' education and highlighted the importance of community participation in the learning process.

3. Action Research

An action research project was conducted to identify and solve a classroom-related problem. The student teachers observed classroom situations, collected data, implemented suitable strategies, and evaluated the outcomes. This activity enhanced their research skills and helped improve teaching practices.

4. Participating in Send-Off Programme for 10th Standard Students

A send-off programme was organized by school for the 10th standard students. The programme included motivational speeches, appreciation of students' achievements, and best wishes for their upcoming board examinations. It created a positive and encouraging atmosphere for the students.

Role of the Supervisor

Dr. Shaikh Yasmeen Mahmood supervised the entire internship programme and provided valuable guidance to the student teachers. Her suggestions and feedback helped in improving lesson planning, teaching techniques, and classroom management skills, in Community survey and also guide for Action Research.

Conclusion

The SITP conducted at Noore Aziz School was a meaningful and enriching experience for the 9 student teachers of B.Ed. Fourth Semester. It helped them gain practical knowledge, develop teaching competencies, and understand the responsibilities of a teacher in the school environment.
