Day-1

The first day started with welcoming all participants to the workshop as it initiated. After the welcome, the resource person, Dr Shabana Ashraf, presented the participants with an introduction to and discussion of the need of TLMs. The thesis statement of her discussion lay in the fact that any bunch of resources - including objects, human and non-human resources - that a teacher may use in teaching and learning situations in order to achieve learning objectives are called teaching-learning materials. This day of this workshop ended with fruitful interaction of the teacher trainees with the resource person.

Day-2

The succeeding resource person, Mr. Tabrez Alam, gave a valuable demonstration on the use of low-cost teaching learning materials. He also gave emphasis on the usage of local materials as teaching-learning materials for the effectiveness of content.

In second half of the session, an exercise was conducted wherein participants utilized low-cost teaching learning materials under the guidance of Resource Person. Mr. Alam congratulated the participants for their talent and efforts.

Day-3

The third day started with a brainstorming session; i.e., how, why and when to use teaching learning material in classroom situation. Dr Shabana Ashraf stressed that, when used, TLMs should be meaningful, simple, brief and related to the objectives of the lesson. They should develop the interest of the learner and should be planned and prepared in advance. She also suggested that TLMs should be devised while keeping in mind the learner's mental, psychological, and intellectual capabilities. She also discussed the situations of the classroom where the use of TLMs is essential.

Day-4

The fourth day of this workshop started with the enthusiastic interaction of all participants with the resource person Dr. Talmeez Fatma Naqvi, Associate Professor, CTE-Bhopal, MANUU. She addressed the necessity of the relationship of TLMs with the content. She discussed the mistakes oft made by teachers in classrooms, usually as a result of improper usage of teaching-learning materials, and the consequences that follow.

Day-5

The last day of this workshop started with the interaction of resource person Dr. Afaque Nadeem Khan, Assistant Professor, CTE- Bhopal, MANUU. He provided the participants with models and materials, as well as space for experimentation and teamwork. The participants learned together – through teamwork, as well as through observing the results of other participants' efforts.

This workshop concluded with the principal's address (Prof. Noushad Husain). He also congratulated to all the participants for their active, enthusiastic participations.

A vote of thanks was given by the workshop in-charge. She gave thanks to each and every person involved - both directly and indirectly - in the conduction, as well as the success of the workshop.
