‘Education is not the filling of a pail, but rather the lighting of a fire’ said William Butler Yeats. This is the fire that a teacher kindles in young minds, giving them a lifetime of yearning to learn. Students with this strong a foundation laid early in life owe their success to the teacher who inculcated in them the desire to acquire knowledge. This same teacher, however, will need to be kept motivated to remain continuously driven on the path of acquiring new knowledge. The present workshop entitled ‘Content Enrichment for Primary School Teachers’ is being conducted to assist primary school educators in making academic subjects more meaningful in the classroom, aiding them to remain well-informed of the latest developments in their fields. This would help teachers meticulously plan better classroom activities leading to an enhanced teaching-learning experience.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the workshop are to

1. Foster the idea of updating educators’ knowledge regularly
2. Facilitate teachers’ transition from “instructor” to “facilitator”
3. Help teachers identify potential resources to enrich their subject knowledge.

PARTICIPANTS

Participants will include teachers of various subjects from primary schools with Urdu as the medium of instruction.
