The Role of Youth in Nation Building Throgh Education and Policies

Bhimappa Rangannavar

INTRODUCTION

The term 'nation building' is usually used to refer to the constructive process of engaging all citizens in building social unity, economic prosperity and political stability in an inclusive and democratic way. Youth is that period when a man is full of energy, ambitions and zest for life. The power possessed by youth is a recognised force today. Efforts has been undertaken to equip youths with the necessary skills and qualities to ensure them of a better future and to meet the accelerated pace of economic development and the changes in the environment. It involved concept, youth power, policies, educational ideas and responsible of youth. Throughout the years, our government has increases its access to education and training especially on Practical education field. We generate young professionals to enhance income generation capabilities, as well as life quality improvement of India.

A nation is built out of the human intellect. This means that a nation cannot be built without the recognition and the collective efforts of all citizens, skilled and unskilled, young and old. Young people are a crucial segment of a nation's development. Their
